A Generational Divide

When it comes to political identity and values - there's a clear generational divide within the LGBTO+ Women's community. 010.11 How do you identify politically? By age.

Note: Respondents could choose as many affiliations as they liked.

YOUNGER

Fewer than 1 in 3 (29\%) respondents under 30 yrs selected 'Democrat' as a political affiliation.

OLDER

More than 2 in 3 ( $69 \%$ )
respondents aged 50 and older selected 'Democrat'.

Just under 1 in 3 ( $30 \%$ )
respondents under $\mathbf{3 0}$ yrs selected 'Socialist' as a political affiliation.

Only 1 in $10(9-11 \%)$ of respondents aged 50 and older selected 'Socialist'.

Around 1 in 4 (22-28 \%) respondents under 40 yrs selected 'Abolitionist' as a political affiliation.

Fewer than 1 in 10 ( $4-7 \%$ )
of respondents aged 60 and older selected 'Abolitionist'.

1 in $2(50 \%)$ respondents

 under 30 yrs, and 1 in 3 ( $37 \%$ $\%$ ) aged between $30-39$ yrs, selected 'Anti-Capitalist" as a political affiliation.Only $15 \%$ (around 1 in 6 ) respondents aged 60 or older selected 'Anti-Capitalist'.

There was widespread opposition to racism, by all respondents. 2 out of $3(66 \%$ ) of respondents under 30 yrs selected 'Anti-Racism' as a political affiliation.

This drops to below $\mathbf{1}$ in 2 respondents ( $49 \%$ ) aged 50 and over. Lowest support is from those aged 75 and over ( $44 \%$ )

Significantly more (29\%) older respondents (60 and over) selected Women Centered' as an affiliation.

Only a tiny minority ( $1 \%$ ) of all respondents selected 'Apolitical' however, 4\% of the youngest participants (under 20) selected that option - a significant difference.

Almost no-one over the age of $\mathbf{3 0}$ selected 'Apolitical' and not a single person over the age of 75 did so.

Only a few ( $14 \%$ ) of respondents under 30

selected 'Women Centered'
as an affiliation.

Deeply Engaged and Increasingly Disaffected

More than 9 out of 10 respondents voted in the 2020 elections - and 96 percent of them voted Democrat. However, this should not be taken for granted: Millennial and Gen Z LGBTO+ women are increasingly disaffected with mainstream political parties and movements. Not paying attention could cost the Democrats winnable seats in future elections.
